YFC Ministries

Campus Life

Campus Life serves middle school and high school youth through on-campus ministries, island-wide events, and camps. Campus Life trains youth to reach out to their peers through its "3 Story Evangelism" movement.

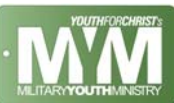

Center for Tomorrow's Leaders

The CTL operate Hawaii's premiere leadership training programs for high school juniors and seniors with the goal of empowering Hawaii's next generation of leaders. The Center gives students rare access to influential leaders.

Military Youth Ministry

YFC Hawaii's Military Youth Ministry is an outreach-focused, relationally-driven, and chapels-connected program for teenagers belonging to the communities of Hawaii's armed services. Weekly meetings, known as Club Beyond, offer an array of large-group mixers, music, and discussions that – through Christian role models – introduces them to Jesus Christ in a way that is thoughtful of their challenging and transient military lifestyle.

YFC for Parents

YFC for Parents is designed to equip parents to effectively raise their teens. This ministry includes parenting seminars such as "LifeCoach Your Teen" and an audio library of 5 years of "YFC for Parents" radio programs originally aired on KGU 760.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST HAWAII

Changed Lives...

Beldon
Kalani HS – Campus Life

It started three years ago when I was in a classroom during lunch finishing up a test. Kids started piling up in the room, music was playing and someone offered me a burger. Before you knew it I was at my first club meeting.

I was searching for some explanation of life and meaning. The topics at club seemed to be addressing the same questions I was asking of myself. My entire junior year I began to embrace the concept of God and what Jesus had done in our lives. I became a club leader and took an active role in inviting more people and helping with club activities.

Shion
Kalaheo HS – Campus Life

It was fun and exciting to talk about absolutely anything in a safe, accepting environment. The (YFC) FUSE club has ultimately served its purpose for accepting me and answering my questions about God, Jesus and the Holy Spirit. There were a lot of other questions answered too, about life and the world. I want to see more people come to the club. I want to serve God more in the club and have it be a rushing river of life to my school.

Paul
Club Beyond – Schofield Barracks

Moving around a lot makes it hard to find the right kind of friends, and having a parent who's in the military can sometimes make relationships even harder. I'm going to be brokenhearted when my mom leaves for Iraq soon...

Recently I got to spend an entire week with the leader of Club Beyond at Schofield Barracks. Besides introducing me to other students who shared some of my own experiences, he put some of my gifts to good use, got me out of my house every day, invited me to other activities, and, most of all, he got to know the story of my life and some of my struggles.

Michael
Center for Tomorrow's Leaders

Before coming to the Center for Tomorrow's Leaders I had a desire to take the lead and to serve. Now I have the tools and knowledge I need to accomplish all I need to. I hope to become a surgeon, rise to a department head, and eventually become the CEO of a large hospital, providing care to as many people as I can effectively and efficiently. In every opportunity, in every circumstance, regardless of the difficulty, I will lead.

Anna
Moanalua HS – Campus Life
Center for Tomorrow's Leaders

Hearing these leaders speak made me think about how I will impact the world in the future. I know God has destined me for greatness, like He has destined everyone for their own greatness. I've been inspired to take my strengths and apply them for God's glory.

Taylor
Campbell HS – Campus Life

I heard about the Youth for Christ Campus Life Club called H.Y.P.E. this year from a friend. I came to the first day of club and it was packed with students. We played some games and got to meet new people. Next week I came back with three of my friends.

I want all the people who support YFC to know that what they are doing is helping the youth at Campbell to grow. This club and what we talk about really makes a difference in student's lives. The future will be different because of what they are doing to support H.Y.P.E.

Marissa
Center for Tomorrow's Leaders

In our time at CTL, we have all had the opportunity to listen to and discuss important issues with many of Hawaii's leaders. Asking questions about balancing family values, moral decision-making, and a faith driven life, our CTL class truly benefited from the wisdom of our guests. As I approach my freshman year in college, I know I will need to use my leadership talents in order to gain a voice in a much larger community.

Jarie
Leilehua HS – Campus Life
Club Beyond – Schofield Barracks

Campus Life is good because it goes straight to the source of us students. We talk about in your face topics like desires and sexuality and real stuff that's always on our minds. But being in the military, Club Beyond is good for teens like me because it gives me more time to settle in, and a place to belong. It's where I found out that a lot of guys around here go to school with me at Leilehua, and Club is where things in my life seem to become less tense.
